Carnia

routes across enchanting landscapes, along ancient paths

Mountain bikes are the ideal means of transport to admire the beauties of Carnia, its uncontaminated nature and its wonderful views. A thick network of roads and paths allows to reach all places, from the towns to the summits of the Carnic Alps. Don't miss the Way of the malghe (shepherd's huts) by bicycle, 15 routes which wind across Carnia and Carinthia conceived for all those who wish to plunge into an uncontaminated nature. The paths, which can also be covered by mountain bike, are very ancient: once they were used for trade and religious purposes, today they are still covered by the herdsmen. And right at the shepherd's huts it is possible to taste and buy simple and wholesome food, discovering the rhythms and the rites of the ancient herdsman trade. In order to reach them, you will follow routes characterized by evocative names: the Path of the cramârs, which follows the tracks of the Carnic pedlars who sold spices and textiles on the other side of the Alps. The Path of silences, on the other hand, winds across silent mountain grasslands rich in streams and small lakes, whereas the Smugglers' Path follows the tracks of the old smugglers of spices. Those who are fitter and more expert can travel along more demanding routes, characterised by steep slopes and breathtaking descents, such as the famous climb to Mount Zoncolan, along which the cyclists of the Tour of Italy ventured several times.

GARNÌ PLUÈME

SAURIS

Fr. Sauris di Sotto, 26/A - 33020
 phone +39 0433 866374 - fax +39 178 2722907
 plueme@tiscali.it - www.garniplueme.it

The Garni Pluème (in Sauris di Sotto) was born from the recent renovation (2003) - by the owner themselves - of the old family hayloft, the origins of which date back to 1685. The careful restoration preserved the original aspect of the façades characterised by the typical pirlštongen - wooden beams - which horizontally run along all the balconies and on which, once, hay was put to dry. Today, on the same balconies, guests can enjoy moments of relaxation in front of suggestive views. "PLUÈME" - in the old German dialect "wild flower" - reflects the intimate and welcoming interior of the 10 bedrooms, each of which is named after one flower of the area. Furnished in local style, they are equipped with telephone, Internet access and satellite TV. The atmosphere, jovial and welcoming, is that typical of the family management. In the old stable - in winter heated by a wood burning Kakelofen (stove) - a big buffet breakfast is served, based on excellent homemade cakes and typical products of Sauris. The ideal base to leave to the discovery of the magic Valley of Lumei, the Garni Pluème is an enchanting place in which you will relax immersed in an atmosphere where time almost seems to have stopped.

In the protected area, characterised by an uncontaminated lagoon environment, you will have the opportunity to watch many species of sedentary and migratory birds which nest or pass here, also thanks to observatories camouflaged among the marsh reeds, the ideal place for bird watching.

routes to plunge into a multicoloured nature

Turn into the Alpe Adria Route, which crosses the whole region from north to south offering a rich overview of ever-changing landscapes and you will discover that the Alps, the hills and the sea follow one another at a very short distance. The northern part of the route winds on a cycle track as far as Pontebba and is characterized by difficulties and slopes accessible to all, as it mostly runs on the bed of disused railway lines. The track joins the cycle track which leads to Jesenice passing through Kranjska Gora, the Slovenian “Cortina”, and the Drava cycle track in Austria. This area is full of unmissable mountain bike routes, which stretch across the borders of three Countries: Italy, Austria and Slovenia. You will cross a territory full of history and suggestions, enriched by the splendid mountain setting of the Julian Alps and by the thick woods of the Tarvisio Forest.

Trieste

between the white Karst and the blue sea

A peculiar mix of nature and history make the Karst plateau a unique environment which is worth discovering. An extremely rich network of paths, which can be also be covered by mountain bike, stretches across hills reforested with Austrian pines and meadows, as far as the stony lands dotted with typical sumac bushes. The Karst is characterised by thousands of caves of various size; some can be visited, such as the Caves of San Canziano and the Giant Cave, the biggest tourist cave of the world. Two-wheel lovers, in these lands, can go on spectacular tours through coniferous woods and then enjoy the landscapes imbued with the white rocks and the blue sea, then allowing themselves pleasant breaks at farm holiday centres or osmizze (informal eating places where farmers sell their meats, cheeses, olives and wines) which can be found following the signalling leafy branches, where they can please their palate with typical oil and renowned wines. A unique environment in Europe where you will also find the Natural Reserve of the Rosandra Valley, the Carsiana Botanical Garden and the charming Rilke path, which overlooks high white cliffs which fall into the sea.

Udine

Among gentle hills and castles in the heart of Friuli Venezia Giulia

In order to deeply know Udine, you will only have to ride a bike: the main town of Friuli, in fact, is a town which can be easily discovered by bicycle, also with the support of audio guides which will let you follow a fascinating route among Venetian architectures and the Tiepolo's masterpieces. From here, at a few miles distance you will find the gentle landscapes of Friuli Collinare: in Fagagna, one of the most beautiful towns of Italy, you will taste the famous local cheese, visit the colony of storks of the Quadris Naturalistic Oasis, the magnificent castle of Villalta and Cjase Cocel, an old country house of the beginning of the twentieth century turned into a museum of the rural culture. You can discover these areas along the Road of the castles and of ham, which skirts more than ten castles and fortresses, among which the castle of Colloredo di Monte Albano, where Ippolito Nievo wrote "Le confessioni d'un italiano", the castles of Cassacco, Susans, Ragogna, Moruzzo and Brazzacco. The route also passes through San Daniele del Friuli, where gourmets will enjoy the famous ham. After reaching the Natural Reserve of the Lake of Cornino, where you can watch the griffon vultures which fly high in the sky, you can keep cycling along lands close to the fascinating exposed gravelly river bed of the Tagliamento and reach wine cellars and Venetian villas. The tour will get as far as the sea, on the long golden beach of Lignano. The European itinerary Eurovelo no. 8 of the Adriatic sea which, crossing Venice, leads to Trieste, passes here.

ALBERGO RISTORANTE ROMA

On a hill which rises over the plain of Udine you will find one of the most beautiful towns of Italy - Fagagna - the land of storks. Every hill preserves its tower, its fascinating ruins, its castle, probably the most famous castles in Friuli Venezia Giulia. This would suffice for mapping a cycle tourist route from Fagagna across enchanting villages and landscapes, maybe with some naturalistic visits to the parks and oases or perhaps sports activities for example on the golf courses. Hotel Roma, surrounded by the amphitheatre of the morainal hills, has 16 rooms with air conditioning, coloured TV, bar-fridge and phone with internet access. The restaurant that offers traditional Friuli and Mediterranean dishes, coupling the plates with excellent wines, completes the structure.
